Aryabhata College has nominated Raman Bhatia for the Expert Committee based on National Innovation and Startup Policy (NISP)

Aryabhata College of Delhi University has released its list of nominated members for the Aryabhata College Innovation Startup Policy Development Committee based on National Innovation and Startup Policy (NISP) guidelines under the aegis of the Ministry of Education. Raman Bhatia, Founder and Managing Director, Servotech Power Systems Limited has been nominated as a member of this development committee.

The 14 member committee set up by the Aryabhata College includes other notable dignitaries, including faculty from Aryabhata College and stalwarts from Industry, Academia, and Civil Society for making the Education Ecosystem more Start-up and Entrepreneurial friendly.

Today, many visionary students aspire to run their own businesses, mainly because they seek autonomy, financial stability, and vocational flexibility. Indeed, some of these millennials will inherit their family business, hoping to fortify and extend the legacy. On the contrary, few will launch a startup to serve an emerging need of society. These individuals will benefit from National Innovation and Startup Policy that teach them how to innovate, lead, collaborate, and persevere, said Raman Bhatia, Founder and Managing Director, Servotech Power Systems Ltd.

I am confident that this committee would bring successful outcomes for the institution and society at large and that together we shall build, streamline and strengthen Innovation and Entrepreneurial Ecosystems in the country, he added.

The National Innovation and Startup Policy launched by the Ministry of Education aims to promote and support innovations and entrepreneurs right from the college level. This committee will actively engage students, faculty, and staff in innovation and entrepreneurship-related activities.
