Servotech Renewable Inks Pact with Enovra Energy Solutions Ltd. to Expand Solar and EV Charger Business in Mauritius

New Delhi/Mauritius, September 15, 2025: Servotech Renewable Power System Ltd. (NSE: SERVOTECH), a leading player in the renewable energy and EV charging sector, has entered into a definitive trade agreement with Mauritius-based Enovra Energy Solutions Limited. Under this agreement, Servotech will supply EV chargers and solar solutions to Enovra Energy Solutions Limited, for distribution and deployment across Mauritius and other surrounding regions.

As part of this agreement, both companies have established a binding commitment, ensuring long-term business consistency and reinforcing the partnership's seriousness and scalability. Enovra Energy Solutions, a key player in Mauritius's renewable energy sector, will act as Servotech's exclusive representative on the island. With this agreement, Enovra will distribute Servotech's portfolio of products including solar solutions and EV chargers, strengthened by manufacturer-backed technical support and bringing an affordable renewable energy experience to Mauritius with affordable solar and EV solutions to promote the adoption of green energy in the country. This association not only expands Servotech's international presence but also builds on Enovra's mission to transform clean energy accessibility in Mauritius and beyond.

Servotech views this partnership as not only a commercial step but also a symbol of strengthening ties between India and Mauritius through a shared vision for a greener future.

Highlighting the significance of this step, Raman Bhatia, Managing Director, Servotech Renewable Power System Ltd., said, "This agreement is an important milestone in our journey of global expansion. By extending our roots to Mauritius through our partnership with Enovra Energy Solutions Limited, we are not only strengthening Servotech's international presence but also advancing the global adoption of green energy. With EV chargers and solar solutions manufactured in India, we are creating value that extend beyond borders, bringing sustainability to
